Q.46 Now I'm going to read you a pair of statements about the health care reform law. After I read both statements, I'll ask you a question about what you just heard.⁵

(SPLIT A) (The Democratic candidate) says: I'm angry that the healthcare website was not ready. But this law makes critical changes. Insurance companies can't raise rates when you get sick, older, or have a baby and can't charge women more than men. They can't deny coverage due to a pre-existing condition or set lifetime limits. The old system was broken. I'll work with both parties to make sure we have health insurance that's there when you need it.

(SPLIT B) (The Democratic candidate) says: I'm angry that the healthcare website was not ready. But this law makes critical changes, and I want it to work. So, I joined both parties to extend enrollment, delay fines, and stop insurers from dropping policies. This law means insurance companies can't raise rates when you get sick, older, or have a baby and can't charge women more than men. We will get health insurance that's there when you need it and fix it together.

(The Republican candidate) says: The Obamacare rollout has been a disaster, but this is just the start of the problem. President Obama and Democrats repeatedly lied to the American people. Now millions have lost health insurance, cannot see their own doctors, and are paying more and getting less. Up to 50 million people with employer provided insurance might lose their coverage. Obamacare just does not work and needs to be repealed.

After hearing those statements, whom do you agree with more in what they are saying on health care changes -- (the Democratic candidate) or (the Republican candidate)?

This coverage is long overdue and a big deal for women.	32	17	10	18	18	5	49	60

49 (SPLIT B) (INSURANCE COMPANIES) The biggest change in this law is that insurance companies actually have to provide health coverage when you need it. And they can never again deny you coverage because of a pre-existing condition.
