Q.90 This is what House Speaker Paul Ryan says about The American Health Care Act:

Obamacare is in a death-spiral. Our health care bill replaces Obamacare with something that provides more competition, more choice, lower costs and better access to more affordable coverage while reining in out-of-control Medicaid spending and reducing the deficit. People will no longer be forced to buy expensive insurance plans they can't afford. For those who buy insurance, it will reduce premiums and lower costs by providing more tax credits, health savings accounts, and power to the states to tailor plans to their needs.

How convincing do you find this argument for the new health care bill?

Q.103 (SPLIT B) How convincing do you find this statement from Republican leaders about Donald Trump?

President Trump's opponents in the media and government are doing everything possible to stop his progress. The media was for Hillary Clinton and said Trump could not win to undermine his candidacy. They keep showing phony polls to understate his support and publish illegal leaks intended to hurt him instead of investigating the law-breaking leakers. The Russia investigation is just another example of fake news from opponents who won't accept he won the election. The country needs to give President Trump the chance to bring change.

117 (SPLIT B) (TAX CUTS FOR RICH) Donald Trump said he will cut middle class taxes, but half the cuts in his proposed tax plan go to the richest 1 percent alone. His family is expected to get a tax break of $4 billion dollars. He's making the rich richer, while the middle class gets nothing.	44	20	20	16	64	84
