¹ Likely voters are defined as those 2008 voters who voted or were not eligible in 2006 AND are almost certain to vote, probable to vote, or don't know if they will vote in 2010.

² Drop-off voters are defined as those 2008 voters who are not likely voters.

Q.9 I know it is a long way off, but what are the chances of your voting in the election for Congress this November: are you almost certain to vote, will you probably vote, are the chances 50-50, or don't you think you will vote?

	Total	Likely Voters	Drop-Off Voters
Almost certain	80	87	27

54 (SPLIT B) Republicans say: President Obama convened a big nuclear summit, but has made no real progress against the biggest nuclear threats like Iran and North Korea. If anything, Obama has put America at risk by agreeing to reduce our own nuclear weapons arsenal while North Korea and Iran continue to build up their nuclear programs and develop the capacity to strike America's shores.

55 (SPLIT A) Republicans say: Obama and the Democrats weakened America by running up huge debts, much of it financed by China, and by ignoring things like our job losses and our foreign energy dependence, which make the U.S. more vulnerable. It's time to get serious about restoring America's strength, beginning at home, by bringing down the debt and tapping more of our domestic energy resources.

56 (SPLIT A) Republicans say: Obama and the Democrats are making us weaker in the war on terror. They moved away from using military tribunals to try terrorists, and instead want to give terrorists civilian trials - and even read them their Miranda rights. We need to fight terrorism like a war, using our full range of military tools to capture, prosecute, and imprison terrorists who want to kill Americans.

57 (SPLIT A) Republicans say: President Obama has taken America's relations with Israel to the worst point ever. He publicly berated Israel's Prime Minister and escalated a bogus fight with Israel. Israel is America's strongest democratic ally in the Mideast, and we should support Israel, not abandon it.

58 (SPLIT B) Republicans say: President Obama's defense policies abandon the proven strategy of peace through strength. President Obama thinks the US is to blame for the problems we face around the world, and that we must change our own behavior first to compromise with our enemies. Rather than apologizing, we should be strengthening our defenses against terrorists and rogue states like Iran.....

59 (SPLIT B) Republicans say: We live in a dangerous world with the constant threat of terrorism, but the Obama administration does not have a comprehensive plan to confront and defeat terrorists. We got lucky that the Christmas Day bomber and the attempted car bomb in Times Square failed. But luck is not an effective strategy for fighting terrorism.

60 (SPLIT B) Republicans say: President Obama's policy of engagement with Iran has brought us nothing. After 16 months, deadlines have come and gone, and the ruling clerics in Iran have bought themselves more time to work on their nuclear program. We've waited long enough. It's time for us to act by putting tougher sanctions on Iran, and even consider military options.
